$250,000 LOSS IN WHITEHALL STREET FIRE

Principal Losers Cotton States Belting and Supply Co., B. F. Avery and Sons, Mrs. E. Z. Black and J. R. Smith

A fire loss of approximately $250,000, the destruction of the factory and supply company's building, where there was no night watchman. Watchmen in adjoining buildings did not notice it, and the alarm came from a policeman living several blocks away and from two patrolmen on duty in those distant in another direction. The fire had gained such headway when the first department arrived that nothing could be saved even from the office of the Belting and Supply company. The building and everything in it were burned.

There was insurance upon both buildings and the contents in them. No one information can be gathered regarding the building at 514 Whitehall, occupied by the Belting and Supply company, J. R. Smith being one of the owners. Mrs. E. Z. Black, owner of the building at 516 Whitehall, occupied by the Avery and Sons company, expects to rebuild as soon as insurance and other matters can be adjusted. She bought the building from J. R. Smith about a year ago.

John T. Pendleton, of the Police court, said Wednesday that he had served to buy the building and contents, and that lawyers were securing the title. The deal had not been closed, said he.

BUSINESS CONTINUES.

The Cotton States Belting and Supply company moved the little there was left to move, back to 9 South Broadway, Wednesday morning. There was a former establishment, recently vacated for the new building. The company still holds an uncertainty as to where the business in temporary quarters. "We will be in position to take care of all our customers right away," said he. The company is engaged in the agricultural implement business. Much stock was burned.

The company's loss is estimated at $250,000. The value of the building was approximately $50,000.

Both buildings adjoining each other at the corner of Stewart avenue and Whitehall street, were new and modern and were considered fireproof. Another fireproof building, facing Stewart avenue in the rear of the burned structure, owned by Dr. Joel T. Daves and occupied by Garbun Brothers, was damaged only slightly.

Other damage was done. A one-story frame dwelling, adjoining the Avery building, occupied by James Taylor and his family, was burned like paper after the furniture had been saved. The next dwelling, a two-story frame house occu-pled by J. Carle and family, caught on fire repeatedly notwithstanding that two streams of water were playing constantly upon it. Fire brands carried into the air by the big configuration of the city and were a constant menace. Volunteer fire-fighters formed bucket brigades and saved much valuable property from this danger.

Water pressure was low and hindered greatly the work of the firemen, according to Chief Cummings. At 1 o'clock the chief telephoned to headquarters of the waterworks department and urged a better pressure. At once he said that the number of streams played on the fire and not their force, held it in check. The whole fire department was engaged, except some emergency apparatus.

Thousands of spectators gathered in the surrounding streets and pressed against the fire lines.

MUST INCREASE RATE

Company Presents Appeal to Railroad Commission

James W. H. Pette, president of the Macon Railway and Light company, declared today that unless his company was permitted to increase the rates on electric current for lighting and power, it could not hope to continue in operation.

But the Macon Railway and Light company has made application to the Georgia Public Service commission for authority to increase its rates in Macon, the present rate of rates, it is said, being the lowest of any city in the state.

The Georgia Public Service commission is expected to make a decision on the case in the near future. The Macon Railway and Light company is a member of the Georgia Public Service commission.

The greater portion of Monday was given to the hearing on the appeal of the Macon Railway and Light company. After President Pette had presented his case, the commission adjourned.

Hundreds of Persons Crushed

From Their Homes

(By Associated Press.)

NAGASAKI, Japan, Jan. 14.—A vivid description of the awe-inspiring scene on the island of Sakurajima during the eruption and tidal wave of Monday was given today by the captain of a Japanese steamer which arrived here from Kagoshima. The captain rescued 800 persons.

"It was perilous to approach the land," he says, "as columns of water burst up continuously from the gulf while on the land pillars of fire rose into the air from the acres of blazing lava. At the same time people and cattle ran pell-mell toward the beach in a wild effort to escape."

"The steamer in which I was aboard was crowded with despairing refugees as I passed through. Many of these people were so stricken with fear they resembled clay figures. Weeping women, horrified with ashes, struggled along carrying infants on their arms. Others were dragging with them the sick and aged."

"Hundreds stood along the shore unable to find any means of escape. Some of them waved towels and clothing attached to bamboo poles to attract attention."

"Many of the people were very half-conscious, suffering from burns or injuries. 'Detachments of ambulance men, police and troops from Kagoshima worked the beach, while the pillars of fire rose into the air from the acres of blazing lava. At the same time people and cattle ran pell-mell toward the beach in a wild effort to escape.'

The Great White Sale of Muslin Underwear-- Justified By Its Economies

The only excuse for the January Sale of Muslinwear is the economies it effects. That is the principle that guides us in the selection of garments for the January Sale. And because we rigidly adhered to it our Great White Sale is a benefit to the women in and about Atlanta.

It is a fact that you can buy daintier, prettier, finer undermuslins at smaller prices now than at any other season. Will you be advised?

One of the exceptional captures of the sale has just arrived---a lot of soft messaline petticoats at $2.25, Plaited ruffles, about all colors.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, undesirable folks aren't wanted around as yet. Busy with Wren's Hair Remover at any drug store. Peaceful Victories.

The adjustment of Big Business to the Anti-Trust law goes peacefully and steadily forward. Following the voluntary dissolution of the New Haven and Hartford Railroad accepts the terms of the Department of Justice and surrenders its monopoly without forcing a fight through the courts. The law is upheld, freedom of enterprise is restored, legitimate interests are conserved, stockholders are protected and business moves on undisturbed, all because of an Administration that is strong enough to do its duty and wise enough to inspire confidence in its foresight and sincerity.

The Anti-Trust law has been nominally in effect since 1890, but not until now has it been actually so. Under the Roosevelt administration, a few of the "bad" trusts, apparently those that were backward in campaign contributions, were set upon with great clamor, though with scant results, while the others were unmolested and in some instances, indeed, were given official leave to absorb independent properties. The Taft administration acted in somewhat better faith, but with no better effect. The law still remained a jest. Now, however, we find those to whom it applies voluntarily measuring up to its requirements. There is no fanfare, no swashbuckling threat or denunciation; instead, there is a "Constitution of Peace," peace based upon justice; business is invited frankly to cooperate with the Government for the country's common good, to plant its own security in the common welfare; and business is responding.

The Wilson administration has proved that what was needed in the trust problem was not so much new laws as a fair, unflinching purpose to uphold the existing law. Monopoly knows the people's voice, and heads. Supplementary legislation is desirable to make sure the end of interlocking directorates; but, fortunately, these problems can now be solved without violence or revolution.

Reference to the almanac discloses that spring will soon roll around.

With Wilson representing one idea of government, Blaine another and Huerta a third, there is variety a plenty.

Colonel Roosevelt will return to America to discover that the only progressive party is now in Washington.

The Good of the Onion.

It is very good to hear so manly a voice as the Louisville Courier-Journal's lifted boldly and scientifically, too, in praise of raw onions. There are persons of squeamish, dallying taste who would consider themselves disgraced if they consorted even with the most carefully boiled onion in the depth of household privacy, and who would as lief run bare-shanked through town at high noon as face the world with a raw onion's radiance about them. The world, to be sure, has its rights, especially when it rides in a closed trolley car on winter evenings, and the stanchest onion-eater should remember that the better part of valor is discretion. Yet, the fact that the onion is a rough-and-ready democrat who sirs his spite opinions with utmost frankness should not prejudice us against his virtues.

The Courier-Journal commends the raw onion as a preventive, and a cure, for colds. "The mouth of nearly every healthy person," we are informed, "contains a few diplococci pneumoniae, and a cold, which weakens resistance, may give the deadly diplococcus his chance. It is, therefore, important to treat the cold germ as severely as he has treated you. He abhors onions; dose him with raw onion juice, and he dies." If one chances to be in a family where onions are forbidden, he is counseled to buy his onion by stealth and devour it "at the witching time of night when hell itself breathes out contagion on the world"; and the man who has eaten an onion should, by comparison, seem innocuous and blameless.

The medicinal value of onions has long been recognized; it is their essential quality that has lacked due appreciation. Stevenson is the one English poet, so far as we know, who has interpreted the onion's subtler self; he addressed it as

"Vine-scented and poetic soul
Of the capacious salad bowl."

Every good onion has a soul, an inner essence that is well-lit and airy in its elusiveness, an imprisoned fairy that awaits only the magic touch of some cook to rise freely in exhalations as delicate as the rarest spices of Arabia.

The time will come, however, when Huerta cannot arrest every bill collector who comes around.

Other southern cities are showing a regular Atlanta spirit in coming to the aid of Atlanta in securing the reserve bank.

Speaking of Regional Banks.

Speaking of regional banks, these figures from the current issue of the Financial Chronicle, showing the December clearings of important Southern cities, are noteworthy:

Atlanta	$4,597,289
Louisville	5,102,681
Memphis	4,557,800
Galveston	4,162,958
Houston	4,162,958
Richmond	3,749,181
Fort Worth	3,681,048
Nashville	3,681,048

So runs the record down a list of a dozen other cities, but to continue it when the point is so clearly made, so strikingly self-evident? The figures for the entire twelvemonth of 1913 tell the same story. In bank clearings for December and for the year as a whole, Atlanta leads all the South, with the one exception of New Orleans. It may be added that within the last decade Atlanta's bank clearings have advanced from some twenty-five and a half millions, and that for 1913 they showed an increase of thirty-three million, six hundred and sixty-two thousand, nine hundred and thirty-seven dollars over 1912.

This record reflects the progress and the future not of Atlanta alone, but of all that rich region, the Southeast, of which it is the business center. Under the purposes of the Federal Reserve act, the States comprising this part of the Union, with their abundant resources and their distinctive needs, should be made a reserve district. On this matter financiers the country over are agreed; and when that is settled it follows logically that the regional bank should be located at Atlanta, the financial center of the district.

It is supremely important that the Southeast secure a regional bank of its own. That is essential to the entire section's due progress in industry, commerce, agriculture and all other fields of activity. Georgia office, alert to this fact, have shown foresight and business wisdom by uniting their effort and influence for the point most likely to be selected. More than a score of them have endorsed Atlanta as the place for a regional bank because they realize that by co-operative action they can best serve their individual and their common interest. That is the plan that will assure the Southeast of its rights under the new banking and currency system. Let other cities in neighboring States join in this effective campaign for the general good.

Even those banks which opposed it are flocking to the direct support of the currency bill.

Widen Peachtree.

It is earnestly to be hoped that the Finance committee of Council will provide the relatively small fund necessary to widen Peachtree street between those points popularly known as "the neck of the bottle." This is one of the most urgent, and certainly it will prove one of the most profitable tasks the city can now perform.

Peachtree street is the great central thoroughfare of Atlanta and of the entire County. Its traffic is heavy and continuous and is constantly increasing. Between Harris street and the Forsyth and Pryor street junction Peachtree is now absurdly narrow, so narrow, indeed, that the congestion between those points is becoming dangerous and business is being impeded.

The owners of adjacent property have agreed to bear the greater part of the expense incident to widening by donating the necessary land to make Peachtree a seventy-foot street from the Pryor-Forsyth junction to Ellis street and an eighty-foot street from Ellis to Harris. It has already been widened to an eighty-foot street from Harris to Baker.

If the city will appropriate twenty-five thousand dollars, this important work can be carried promptly to completion. A better investment for the community's welfare could not be made.

The widening of Peachtree will open the way for millions of dollars of development that is now held in abeyance waiting this one improvement. It will relieve a particularly acute traffic problem and will add incalculably to Atlanta's good looks and progress.

By all means, let Council aid this constructive enterprise.

Editorials in Brief

Plutarch wrote about women who carried dogs in their arms, and one of the Roman emperors said something about women who fussed over puppies when they should be lavishing their attention upon babies. The emperor wasn't, and probably didn't pretend to be, making an original observation. The fact about dogs—and it is not new—is that some persons like them greatly, some like them less and some do not like them. It is very much the same about boiled turnips or clam chowder.—Courier Journal.

THE LATIN AMERICAS

By Savoyard

I suppose what is known as the "Monroe Doctrine" was the invention of George Cannon, the pupil and a successor of the younger Pitt as prime minister of England, and served at the time to drag out of the fire some very hot and flaming British chestnuts. It is supposed that the Monroe Doctrine yet survives. The doctrine is that the Monroe Doctrine yet survives. The doctrine is that the Monroe Doctrine yet survives.

For nearly a century we continued it to mean, first, that the richest land under the sun is Latin America, and that its only mission on the map is to be exploited through rascally concessionaires granted to European and American capital. That is what is the matter with Mexico this moment, and that made a thousand revolutions in the Latin Americas in the nineteenth century.

Well, Woodrow Wilson is not only a great statesman but as a political philosopher he ranks with the greatest of the guild since Monroe. The Prophet of God, handed down the law to the children of Israel. Mr. Wilson has a policy as to Latin America. He has named it at Monticello, in one of the greatest orations that ever fell from the lips of political orator, and here is what it is:—Justice, justice, justice, and see how that works—that is to say, we have tried Mammon for a hundred years, and he has not done it. As long as Mammon is set to it he will continue to do it, and so let us bring in Justice, Justice, Justice. Woodrow Wilson's interpretation of what the Monroe Doctrine ought to be.

WIDENING OF PEACHTREE

DRAFTED BY R. F. MADDOX

Former Mayor Asks Finance Committee to Give $25,000 for Project

That the proposed widening of Peachtree street would do more to relieve traffic congestion than any other plan, is the opinion of Ex-Mayor Robert F. Maddox, who appeared before the finance committee Tuesday to urge an appropriation of $25,000 for the project.

Mr. Maddox stated to the committee that the property owners along Peachtree from Harris street to the junction of Pryor and Forsyth are holding up millions of dollars' worth of work, waiting for the city to make the appropriation of $25,000 necessary to commence the work.

The proposed plan, as outlined by Mr. Maddox, is to widen Peachtree street 20 feet between Ellis and Harris streets, making an 80-foot right-of-way instead of the present 60-foot one, and to make the street 70 feet wide between the junction of Pryor and Forsyth and Ellis streets.

"This widening of the 'bottle-neck' on Peachtree is bound to come sooner or later, as a necessity to relieve the congested traffic of Atlanta's greatest artery," said Mr. Maddox to the committee. "And the work ought to commence at once."

"Property owners are now waiting on the action of the city before spending millions of dollars along the proposed 'bottle-neck' of Peachtree," said Mr. Maddox. "The city is holding the old Capital City club site vacant until after the contemplated improvement is made. I myself am waiting until the street is widened to develop my property on the corner of Peachtree and Ellis, and most other property owners are in exactly the same position as Mr. Candier and myself."

AGREEMENT IS SIGNED.

Mr. Maddox stated that ten feet on the west side of Peachtree between the junction of Pryor and Forsyth and Ellis streets had already been given by the property owners, and that an agreement had been signed by the owners between Harris and Ellis streets to give ten feet on both sides of the street.

Mr. Maddox told the committee that as appeared before them, the project would be affected by the proposed improvement, but stated that a citizen he thought the widening of the Peachtree bottle at this point was a necessity to the city.

"It's a mathematical certainty, not a theory, that this improvement will do more to relieve the congestion of traffic on Peachtree street than any other plan," said Mr. Maddox.

While the committee did not decide definitely whether or not the money for this improvement would be forthcoming at once or in the near future, the property owners who appeared before them Tuesday stated they were pleased with the interest shown by the members of the committee.

Among the others who spoke in behalf of the project were Forrest A. Rich, Richardson and John O. Grant. Forrest Adler urged that the money be given and the work commenced at once, so that it could be completed before the "Shinners" commence in May.

Peachtree street is at present eighty feet wide between Harris and Ellis streets. The proposed improvement would give an eighty-foot street from Harris to the junction of Pryor and Forsyth.

Stop Stomach Worries Now

And Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets So That You Can Digest Each Meal Quickly and at the Same Time Renew Your Digestive Strength

Learn once again how to smile and laugh, and stop this grouchy moodiness. This condition, which is not a fault, but a disease, can be relieved unless you use common sense and assist Nature a little.

The stomach is overworked, its muscles become tired and gradually grow weaker and weaker, until they are unable to take care of the food properly. The glands fail to provide the juices necessary to digest the food. Gas forms and causes all sorts of pain, misery and wretchedness, as well as extreme danger to the heart.

It is then that the stomach calls for help. Ordinary medicines are impossible. They not only fail to help the stomach but injure the entire system, do harm and have studied the stomach and have discovered that the digestive juices consist largely of pepsin and hydrochloric acid, and that the stomach would be more natural than to supply these properties artificially when the stomach is unable to produce them.

That is the object of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These powerful little agents relieve the stomach of its burden, thereby giving it the ability to regain its normal strength. They restore strength and vitality to the wearying glands and muscular walls. They restore to the stomach its just powers of digestion so that it can again do its work without assistance.

They contain, in a concentrated form, every element necessary to digest all sorts of food, whether acid or alkaline.

If you experience an oppressive feeling just inside the lower part of your breast bone and extending upward towards your heart, do not hesitate to "take" Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the nearest drugstore at once and take one. In a few minutes the tablet will leave you and you will feel better. Take a tablet after each meal (or several days and your stomach will once more perform its duty. All quality diets sell them at 50c a box. (Adv.)

Listen, Local Playwrights! Here's Chance to "Get By"

Producer of "Peg o' My Heart" Wants Something Novel and He'll Boost It if It's Good

If there be any Atlanta playwrights who, would "get by" with their stuff in the big city they have the chance to do it by following the instructions of Oliver Morosco, the producer, whose famous "Peg o' My Heart" show comes here for a whole week next Monday.

Mr. Morosco is looking for the unique drama. He found it in "Peg o' My Heart," an odd little story of a modern white slave sensation and roaring musical comedy that it was produced by the critics and so successful after its production that it took jaded Broadway appetites by storm.

But he doesn't want another "Peg o' My Heart" play. It has come to be a novelty. He wants something different from either it or "Peg o' My Heart" or any play now holding the Gotham boards. And he wouldn't care if an Atlanta author was the one to write it.

"Write me a new epic of the hard-rock man hewing out skyscraper and bridge," he says. "A romance of the everyday sort who tells the story-line of the great city; a psychological study of race that is the East Side of every large city; a tragedy of a presidential old age in a town full; a bizarre comedy of the misadventures of every day. We are crowded in the most human, the most vitally something of human history; our writers are floating in an element so dark and so full of human misery, so full of tragedy, so full of desperate far to frown in someone's else narrow, private pond."

After "The Money Moon" he wants something entirely different from either it or "Peg o' My Heart" or any play now holding the Gotham boards. And he wouldn't care if an Atlanta author was the one to write it.

KING HARDWARE CO. PUTS ON CLEARANCE SALE JAN. 15

Firm Makes Announcement of January Clearance Sale to Begin Thursday

The announcement of the January clearance sale of the King Hardware company, which will begin tomorrow, is always an item of interest to all Atlantans who are housekeepers and who are intending to start housekeeping, as well as to carpenters and other craftsmen who use high-grade tools.

The sale, a detailed advertising announcement of which appears in today's paper, includes a wide range of household and kitchen articles and utensils, silverware, toys, carpenter's tools, and the like.

The big crowds which attend the King Hardware sales are drawn there from the fact of their having profited by the sales at previous times and from the knowledge that when King Hardware bargains begin they are always bargains indeed.

"Never in the history of the business," states the management, "have so many items been put on special sale at such low prices. The bargains come from every stock department in the store."

The sale, which begins Thursday, will last ten days or more. (Adv.)

CONDUCTS SUNDAY SCHOOL ON A BUSINESS BASIS

J. W. Awtry, newly-elected head of the Central Baptist Sunday school, believes in applying business methods to the work of the church. To begin with he has placed a business man at the head of every department of the school and Wednesday evening at the regular business meeting of the church. Mr. Awtry proposes to hear suggestions from the different heads of department.

CONDITIONS

Votes will be given in exchange for Labels, Wrappers, Trade Marks, Slips or other evidence of purchase of Manufacturers' products advertised in Campaign announcements.

Votes will be given in exchange for Cash Sales Slips, Cash Register checks or certificates showing evidence of purchase from any Merchant advertising in Campaign announcements, providing such evidence is turned into Campaign office not later than seven days from the time of purchase.

Each sales slip, cash register check, certificate or other evidence of purchase must bear the date and name of customer, otherwise it will not be accepted for votes. Customers may write their own names on slips if they so desire.

Votes will not be given on invoices of quantity purchases either by Grocers or Customers.

No more than 10,000 votes will be given in exchange for Sales Slips, certificates, cash register checks or receipts bills on any single purchase of payment, no matter what the terms of payments may be.

All that is necessary to compete for these valuable prizes is to nominate your favorite organization, such as a Church, Ladies' Aid Society, Ladies' Auxiliary, Charitable Institution, School, Lodge or Hospital, your favorite boy or girl or your favorite grocery, drug or retail clerk.

Organizations can "team up" or exchange votes with either of the contestants in the Boys' or Girls' class or in the Grocers', Druggists' or Retail Clerks' class.

Labels are good for ten votes for each cent paid.

Sales Slips are good for one vote for each cent paid.

"HOW TO WIN"

All that is necessary to enter the Campaign is to fill in the name of your Church, Ladies' Aid Society, Civic League Club, Charitable Institution, Club or Lodge on the nomination panel and send it to Campaign Manager, Journal Office.

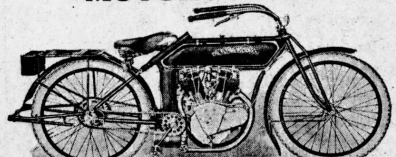

There are several ways of getting votes: First, by voting the labels from any product advertised on the Campaign page; second, by voting the sales slips of any merchant whose name appears on the Campaign page. This is no "clipping coupon scheme," and no votes can be secured in any other than the above described way.

This is the best prize offer ever made in Atlanta. Get an early start and bear in mind, YOU DON'T HAVE TO ASK ANYONE FOR A CENT. Just get your organization and friends to save their labels and sales slips.

Those getting the most votes win the prizes.

Bring all your labels and sales slips to The Journal office and get them exchanged for a vote ballot. This ballot you may hold and vote any time you wish.

RULES

Organizations, such as Churches, Ladies' Aid Societies, Ladies' Auxiliaries, Civic League Societies, Hospitals, Schools, Benevolent Societies, Charities and Fraternal Organizations in Atlanta and suburbs adjacent to Atlanta are eligible to compete for prizes in Organization class.
Children under the age of 16 years of age in Atlanta and Suburbs adjacent to Atlanta are eligible to compete for prizes in Children's class.
Grocers', Druggists' Clerks, or retail Clerks in Atlanta and Suburbs adjacent to Atlanta are eligible to compete for prizes in Druggists' and Grocers' Clerks' class.
Organizations may exchange votes with either one of the individual classes, viz., any organization may vote for themselves and a child in the Children's class or an individual in Grocers', Druggists' or retail Clerk and vice versa.
Merchants, Manufacturers, their employees and employees of this paper are barred from competing for prizes.
No votes will be given for subscriptions or coupons clipped from Newspapers.
In case of a tie for any prize, the prize will be sold and proceeds equally divided.
Ballots once issued or once cast cannot be transferred.
The Journal reserves the right to accept or reject any nomination made.
In order to positively assure those contestants who are working honestly that their efforts will not be overcome by any contestant resorting to trickery the Campaign Manager reserves the right to disqualify any contestant who violates the rules, after giving such contestant the privilege to refute the charges made. The decision of the Campaign Manager as to the meaning of the rules will be final.
Should it be discovered that sales slips, certificates, receipted bills or cash register checks are being irregularly used or irregular secured they will not be accepted for votes. Only bona fide customers are allowed to receive and vote sales slips, receipted bill certificates, etc., which must be issued after beginning of campaign.
Bonus votes on labels will be given.
A board of Judges selected from Atlanta's prominent business men will award the prizes, canvass the votes and whose decisions those entering the Campaign agree to accept as final.
Both rules and conditions of Campaign are subject to change for the protection of both contestants and Newspaper, should occasion demand.
All contestants entering this Campaign agree to abide by the above rules and that any dispute, should one arise, shall rest with The Journal, who will assure fair and impartial consideration.

WATCH FOR THE RED TAGS

WATCH FOR THE RED TAGS King's Great WATCH FOR THE RED TAGS
January Clearance Sale

To our friends, it is unnecessary to say that a King Hardware Company Bargain Sale means a real Bargain Sale. Every reduction is a bona fide cut and an unusual value. To those not so well acquainted with us, we would only say: "Attend this sale, and in future you will be our friend."

All our customers know what a King Broom Sale means. Every broom offered sells regularly at 50c to 60c. Only one broom allowed to a customer. No other conditions. We will deliver and charge if you like. Come early. Only fifty dozen brooms in this sale.

In times past we have had clean-up sales and cut-price sales but we can truthfully say that never have we offered so many bargains and such unusual bargains. They come from every department in our store, and the items are ten times as numerous as everbefore.

Watch for the Red Tags. They Mean Bargains!

A Half-Price Sale of Enameled Ware

This is indeed the most unusual enameled ware values we have ever offered. Every piece is first quality "Brillia" Ware—a beautiful dark blue enamel sprinkled with white spots. And you will agree with us that it's really half price when you see it. We list a few of the

FORECASTERS PROMISE RELIEF FROM COLD WAVE

Suffering Brought to Many Cities by Sudden Change
All Over World

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Relief from the intense cold weather which has held the eastern and New England states in its grip for the past two days is promised tonight or tomorrow. Today, however, near zero or below still prevails along the middle and north Atlantic seaboard. Reports from the west early today indicated that the rising temperatures which brought relief there yesterday would reach the lake regions today and weather forecasters say they are extending eastward.

While the cold wave has been sweeping the country, Europe too has felt a drop in temperatures. From Norway to southern France, Vienna, Berlin and many other German cities report unprecedented drops in the temperature. Little ice is running in the Danube river, and it falls in places for the first time in four hours has been at a standstill. In London recent harsh weather conditions are held responsible for a serious rise in the death rate and an epidemic of influenza.

Forty-three below.
In New York state the lowest temperature reported—43 degrees below zero—was at Harrisville. Few towns to the north and western sections of the state reported temperatures higher than 20 degrees below zero early today. New York City, which seldom experiences below zero weather, touched a record mark at midnight at 4 degrees below.

The number of dead officially recorded last night was nine but police and health officials believe the total will greatly exceed that figure. Hundreds have received treatment at hospitals and thousands of homeless men and women have been sheltered in municipal lodging houses. To add to the intensity of the cold a sixty-mile high blizzard all of yesterday, not abating until late last night. Because of the needs of the poor for coal, 400 coal miners who have been on strike, yesterday returned to work agreeing to have their demands for increased pay withdrawn.

New England yesterday and last night was swept by a sixty-mile gale, and there were many reports of suffering in Boston and other cities. Schools and railways are closed and several cities without electric light and power.

PHOTOGRAPHERS TO MEET IN ATLANTA ON JUNE 15

Members of the executive committee of the Photographers' Association of America in session at the Hotel Amherst in session at the Hotel Amherst, Jan. 14, 1914, as the time for the annual convention of the organization here. The meeting to be held at the auditorium here. The gathering was organized by Atlanta in Kansas City at the last convention and between 1,500 and 2,000 delegates and visitors are expected to be in attendance.

The photo men who are now in Atlanta completing arrangements are being entertained and Tuesday night were tendered a dinner by Manager J. F. Lott of the Hotel Amherst, the convention headquarters of the association.

THE BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY BREWERTON

IN THE LOCAL PLAYHOUSES

This afternoon a matinee of "Broadway Jones" will be given and tonight the company will play good-by to the Atlanta public. The George M. Cohan play has won the approval of all the critics and has stirred all Atlanta to the utmost. It is strictly a laugh-provoking comedy and every one in the audience laugh from start to finish at every performance. The company is entirely capable and certainly Mr. Cohan has never written a more delightful and laugh-making play.

Seats are now selling for the return engagement of "Within the Law," which comes next to the Atlanta Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The demand for seats up to date has been such that indications point to packed houses at all the performances. The matinee will be played Saturday. The same company which played so many hundreds before will return with the production and every one will be given an opportunity to see what the masses considered the greatest play and company of the year. Certainly no play has made a finer impression than "Within the Law."

"Peg o' My Heart" is coming to the Atlanta all of next week and the sale of seats open Thursday at 9 o'clock. All are advised to be in line or send a messenger as the prospects are that a line of purchasers will keep the treasurer busy for many hours. "Peg" is one of the two most popular plays of the entire year and the company to be seen here in all that could be asked. The demand for seats from all parts of the state is enormous and "Peg" is sure to prove a better of marks.

Sophie Tucker is adding to her successes. A more entertaining and gifted ragtime singer has never been seen in Atlanta, and at the Forsyth this week, each audience clamors for more of her songs and of "Peg."

Francis McGinn and company offer "The Cop," an interesting little play. The manner in which the police inspector sounds one of his patrolmen before promoting him, in which the famous dictagraph is used, makes an exciting story.

Harry Richards and Sophie Kyle have a bright and crisp entertainment of song and dance. "Morris Atkins and John

Atwell in their burlesque car ride and Pullman car trip also well worth seeing, while "The Awakening of the Toys" is a good novelty.

A perfect production of "The Witching Hour" is this week being presented at the Lyric theater. Mr. Norman Macdonald in the leading role, appears to fit his part as if he had been made for him. Miss Ilka-Marie Diehl in her part is a revelation, and in fact, every member of the company is so well cast that it would seem the play had been specially written for them. The stage mountings are all that could be desired, and altogether this entertainment is an excellent new one.

The bargain matinee, 35 cents for the best seats in the house, are becoming decidedly popular, each performance showing a healthy increase in the attendance, and it is predicted that before many more weeks have passed the house will be crowded at each performance.

ATTEMPT AT MURDER IS CHARGED TO B. A. FITE

Accused of Firing Into Home of W. P. Whitaker at Kennesaw

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MARIETTA, Ga., Jan. 14.—B. A. Fite, receiver for the Kennesaw bank, is at liberty here under a bond of $500 while the grand jury investigates the charges that he fired five shots into the home of W. P. Whitaker, former cashier of the bank, Wednesday.

The father of the bank, in which Fite was a big stockholder, is said to have worried the trouble. It is said that Fite lost several thousand dollars and that he was bitter against Whitaker, who was accused of being responsible for the bank's failure.

During the absence of Whitaker five shots were fired into his home. Authorities believe that Whitaker would have been killed had he been at home.

Fite, who stands on the Kennesaw for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, was charged with the crime and today was released on bond.

DR. MORGAN MAY COME FOR BIBLE CONFERENCE

Committee Plans to Have Many Notes Divines at Meeting in March

Dr. Campbell Morgan, the distinguished London divine, and many other famous ministers will be in Atlanta March 12 to March 16 for the annual Bible conference, if plans formulated at a meeting Tuesday in the office of John J. Egan are worked out.

In addition to Dr. Morgan, Dr. Souper of London; Dr. Melville Trotter of Detroit, and probably many others, among them Dr. Len G. Broughton, who founded the conference, are expected. Arrangements for the annual conference were made Tuesday at the committee meeting, which was attended by Mr. Egan, Dr. Sol C. Dickey of Winston, and Mr. Richard Dyer, of H. A. Etheridge and S. C. Callaway.

Besides the main conference in Atlanta, the committee made plans for subsidiary conferences in Birmingham, Rome and Chattanooga.

SEEK DOUBLE DAILY
RAILROAD SERVICE

A hearing was held Tuesday by the state railroad commission on the petition of citizens of Clarksville, Tallulah Falls and other points on the Tallulah Falls railway for a double daily passenger service over that line.

The commission also heard the complaint of the Cella chamber of commerce that the railroad was discriminating in freight rates in favor of Fitzgerald and Tifton. A general reduction in freight rates is sought by Cella.

Nation's Trains Stopped

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 14.—The entire railroad service of Portugal was suspended today owing to the declaration of a general strike by the employees. About one-third of the railroads belong to the state.

Members of Football Team
Will Not Be Allowed to Write Accounts of Games

(By Associated Press.)
PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 14.—Members of Princeton's football team hereafter will not be allowed to write "part" stories of the games for the newspapers under their own name, according to an announcement yesterday by a member of the board of athletic control. The board of control, which was set up against the practice and which he expected to bring up the matter at the next meeting. That a rule would be issued against the practice he felt certain.

Some critical stories were written last fall by several players which the authorities frowned upon, although the board of control officials had no strong sentiment strongly favors the board's attitude.

Japanese Cook and An American Woman Found Dead in Room

ROBLYN, L. L. Jan. 14.—When the Elmer Stevenson family started to leave this morning they found Masaki, their Japanese cook, dead in his room with the body of a young American woman lying beside him.

Both had been shot and a revolver lay on the floor. There was little to explain whether the two committed suicide or were murdered, or whether one of them shot the other and then killed himself.

OPPOSES TEACHING BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Dr. Henry F. Cope Declares It Relates Too Closely to Denominational Matters

In his address before the Atlanta School of Religious Training Methods in the Wesley Memorial building Tuesday night, Dr. Henry F. Cope, of Chicago, took a definite position against Bible instruction in the public schools. "It is erroneous to assume that the Bible is not in the school," he said. "Bible training relates too closely to denominational matters for the public schools. The fundamentals of Christian life—self-control, self-respect, regard for the rights of others—should be inculcated not only by precept but by example of the teacher. Children, naturally, are the teacher is of paramount importance."

The public school is the real melting pot of America, said he. "It is the greatest of Democratic institutions. It is not a gift, class case, education of this children for mixing with plain folk."

SYSTEM IS ARRANGED
There must be something fundamentally wrong with a system of education which leads to the religious instruction in the minds of children, said he. He said the religious system of public instruction "which fails to cultivate a taste for learning in its pupils."

"We must not think of children as the innocent little beings we sometimes imagine them to be. We have but to know of the notes that are slipped clandestinely from hand to hand in the school to realize that they know and talk about many topics they are not supposed to know."

Sex instruction by scientifically trained instructors in the high schools and in separate classes of boys and girls was advocated by Dr. Cope.

In advocating the restriction of instruction of youth in problems of life, Dr. Cope placed himself flatly on record in opposition to haphazard discussions by untrained teachers of the matters which a child does not need to know. He favored sex instruction, moreover, only to those whose parents indicate a desire that their children be trained thus.

"There is more nonsense being talked about eugenics and hygiene than any other subject on earth," said he. "The first place where sex education should be given is the home. The parent themselves should be trained, and should impart their training to their children. But, unfortunately, too many parents, the great proportion of parents these days prefer to leave their children in ignorance. That gives rise to the problem of raising generation after generation in ignorance or giving this instruction in the public schools."

SALVATION ARMY GOES AFTER HARDENED SINNERS

Beginning January 18, the Salvation Army all over the world will begin a series of sleep meetings in which an attempt will be made to convert the hard-hearted sinners, and particularly an effort be made to secure the reform of those addicted to drink.

The meetings in Atlanta will be opened Sunday night by Charlie Tillman, the revivalist, and everybody is invited to attend.

The services will be held in the Salvation Army hall at 29 1-2 Marietta street.

NEW YEAR OF GREEKS OBSERVED IN ATLANTA

The Greeks of Atlanta celebrated New Year's day Wednesday with services at the church of the Center, beginning in the morning, the giving of presents, feasting and merry-making. Demetrius Pateros delivered the morning sermon.

Blaze in Plant

Fire starting among the generators on the second floor of the Butler street plant of the Georgia Railway and Power company at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning extinguished within less than an hour. Officials of the company declared not a great deal of damage had been done. For a time generators, valued at about $15,000 each, were threatened.

NEAR-SIGHTED EYES

Glasses can now be successfully fitted without dilating the pupils of the eyes. Dr. J. H. Hedges, 54 Larch street, was taken early Wednesday morning to Rowell, where the funeral will be held.

ONE BURGLAR CAUGHT; OTHERS MAKE ESCAPE

Negro, Fired on by Officers, Plays Dead and Then Gets Away

Two negroes were surprised early Wednesday morning by Patrolmen Dunham and Turner, the act of robbing a grocery store at 127 Forrest avenue, and one was captured, while the other escaped amid a fusillade of shots.

When the two officers approached the store, of which William Goldberg is the proprietor, they saw one negro standing on the sidewalk receiving groceries from a confederate on the inside. The officers crept close to the burglars, but he was discovered and fell just at the minute the other burglar crawled out the window and started to make his getaway. He was halted, but while the policemen were handcuffing him the man who had fallen presumably wounded, escaped.

At headquarters the captured man gave his name as William Walker, aged twenty-one years, of 19 Chestnut street. He was taken to the superior court Tuesday night.

Edgewood Dry Goods company's store at 187 Edgewood avenue, also was entered late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, and a small quantity of goods stolen. The burglars were not discovered until 1 o'clock in the morning, and then Officer O. R. Jones went to the store to make an investigation. The burglar had entered through a window. The amount of goods stolen was not large.

DORSEY WON'T REPLY TO LATEST FRANK BRIEF

Thinks Points Stressed in the Supplemental Brief Already Covered

The supplemental brief filed in the supreme court by the attorneys for the defense of Leo M. Frank will remain unanswered by the state.

While Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey will not discuss the matter himself, it has been learned on good authority, that he has just finished reading the defense's supplemental brief, and has decided that the points stressed in it were covered sufficiently in the main brief of the state.

The supplemental brief was filed about a week ago, but the solicitor general has been constantly engaged in the superior court, and did not read it carefully until Tuesday.

It had been generally expected that the brief would be answered by the state, but now it seems that the solicitor is content to let the case rest in the supreme court.

TWENTY APPLICANTS FOR LICENSES TO EMBALM

Twenty applicants for licenses to embalm gathered in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock to stand examinations which are being conducted here by the Georgia State Board of Embalmers. These examinations are held semi-annually under the direction of W. Edward Platt, of Augusta, secretary.

Mr. Platt said before the examinations commenced that the board would not finish with the papers until late in the afternoon. At that time the names of the successful applicants will be made public.

VALDOSTA INTERVENES IN RATE INJUNCTION

Representing the chamber of commerce of Valdosta, Attorney E. S. McLeod has filed in the federal court an intervention against the Atlantic Coast Line railway and four other roads. The intervention was filed in the federal court in 1906 to prevent the Georgia railroad commission from enforcing lower freight rates on these roads to be set aside, and that restitution be made for charges collected above the lawful rate. Over $4,000,000 in excess of the lawful rate has been collected by these roads since 1906, it is alleged.

R. Frank Taylor Back
Friends of R. Frank Taylor, assistant resident manager of the Piedmont hotel, are welcoming him back to the city after an absence of ten days at the Virginia watering places, where he went at the advice of his physician.

WOMEN TO ASK VOTE OF NEXT LEGISLATURE

Bill Will Be Offered at Next Session Georgia Association Is Told

At the Hotel Ansley Tuesday night the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association held an enthusiastic meeting.

Mrs. Mary McLendon, president of the association, conducted the meeting, which was opened with prayer by Dr. A. R. Holderby.

Mrs. Charles O. F. Craig, of Brooklyn, spoke on "The Citizen Mother." She was followed by Dr. Holderby, who read a paper strongly advocating suffrage for women. Mrs. Anna Fletcher, of Ogham, England, told of the work of the suffragists there. She repudiated the alliance with their acid and torches, and said these were in the minority. Leonard J. Grossman then spoke after which the discussion began, getting up to express their views on the cause.

The association put itself on record as advocating increased pay for women teachers in the state. It was also said that $5,000, part of which had already been subscribed, is to be raised for suffrage literature.

It was also stated that a suffrage bill would be introduced at the next meeting of the legislature.
